

31st October - 1st November
24 Hours Virtual Hackathon

What is Hack This Fall?

- Hack This Fall is a student-run 24 hours hackathon which will be hosted virtually from 31st October to 1st November of 2020. More than 300 students from across the India will gather online to create software and hardware projects including websites, mobile apps, and much more.
- An event where one can join with their Laptop/PC and write some code. Participants here will meet new people, ask for help, help others, talk about cool projects, learn from others, share their knowledge, interact and most importantly have fun.
- We are super excited for the hackathon and would love to have you as one of our proud partners in any way possible. The coming slides of this document has a sponsorship deck with tiers you can choose from.

Why Hack This Fall?

- Hack This Fall aims to promote students from high school and university. Hack This Fall give them the platform where they can showcase their skills, meet like-minded people, learn new stuffs and have fun. Here, we will talk about various technologies, create awareness, encourage others, Hack to contribute and many more exciting events & sessions.
- Hack This Fall is a hackathon based in India. India is a country with lot of young, dedicated and skillful students. There are many esteemed Computer Science Engineering colleges from which participants will be joining us. Students here are crazy about hackathons. The culture of development of projects overnight is extraordinary.
- We know that things are changing fast in today's world, and that the health and security of all participants is of the utmost importance. That is why we are taking Hack This Fall to the Virtual World. However, this won't change the impact our sponsors have on our attendees. Whether your organization is focused on recruiting, promoting your brand, receiving feedback on your products and services, or all of the above, Hack This Fall will help you meet your goals.

More General Information.

➤ What is a Hackathon?

Hackathons are an incredible way to bring your community together to learn new skills, build amazing projects, and share ideas. A hackathon is best described as an “invention marathon”. Anyone who has an interest in technology attends a hackathon to learn, build & share their creations over the course of a weekend in a relaxed and welcoming atmosphere. One don’t have to be a programmer and one certainly don’t have to be majoring in Computer Science!

➤ Why Sponsor Hack This Fall?

- Showcase your product and service to developers.
- Advertise your brand on Hack This Fall website/social media/emails and more.
- Get opportunity to interact with students and gain access to their resume/GitHub/LinkedIn.
- Recruit from a pool of talented CS and Engineering students during the event.

Sponsorship Modes!

There are various modes in which sponsorship can be offered

- Sponsorship can be offered in the form of monetary support.
- The sponsorship can be provided by making hardware devices available to participants during the challenge or by providing the problem statements for the hackathon.
- Send professionals to mentor and inspire students, who can also help us to judge the event.
- The sponsorship can also be offered in the form of your own prize category where you can send prizes, rewards or goodies for winners/best performers.
- You can send prizes to the teams with best contribution on your company's public repositories.
- You can also support us with swags, goodies etc.
- Coupon Codes for your products or providing your service for free can also be an approach.
- Provide Internship opportunities.
